

Form follows function. Form and function are both more important than fashion.

Design is more important than style. Design is about achieving an objective; style is about appearance.

Attitude is more important to happiness than “truth.”

Kindness is more important than intelligence.

Imagination is more important than knowledge.

(Einstein)

If you want to tell people the truth, make them laugh, otherwise they'll kill you. (Oscar Wilde)