

How to Submit a Petition for Dependent Students without Parental Help

Most unmarried undergraduates under the age of 24 are considered dependent for federal financial aid purposes and therefore must provide parental information. In cases where parents have ended financial support of the student AND they refuse to provide their information on the student's FAFSA, the student may submit this petition to receive ONLY unsubsidized loans. See <http://financialaid.boisestate.edu/tipsdetails/UnsubsidizedLoans.shtml>.

 - ✓ Your step-parent if your biological or adoptive parent has remarried

Pros and Cons to submitting a FAFSA without Parents Income Information

- ◆ Pro: A federal unsubsidized loan is far superior to alternative/private education loans and credit cards.
- ◆ Pro: Some federal aid is better than no federal aid... which the reality was previously for students in this situation.
- ◆ Pro: Federal student loans do not involve checking a student's credit rating
- ◆ Con: Only an unsubsidized loan can be awarded (the least desirable federal student loan). You will be ineligible for Pell Grant, SEOG Grant, ACG and SMART grants, LEAP grant, need-based scholarships, work-study award, Perkins loan, federal subsidized loans, and Parent PLUS loans.
- ◆ Con: Student may not receive any financial support what-so-ever from a FAFSA parent, including living at home with a FAFSA parent, using a vehicle owned by a FAFSA parent, a FAFSA parent co-signing any loan, or providing health or car insurance.
- ◆ Con: The amount of unsubsidized loan is limited to the annual grade level limit for dependent students (Freshman = $5,500; Sophomore = $6,500; Junior/Senior/Post-Bacc = $7,500).
- ◆ Con: FAFSA parent(s) and student need to complete a Petition for Dependent Students without Parental Help that must be approved by financial aid counselor(s).
