III. Updates

A. Alyssa- I've been doing some organizing training with Advocates, let me know if you'd like me to share the slides with you! We're also doing a virtual workshop this Thursday, more info here: <https://www.instagram.com/p/CG2vqXzgiai/?igshid=mj6saz8h7mmd>
The Freed Fundraiser is going so well too, pls let me know if there's other ways we can fundraise.

The COAS board is meeting to address the executive order that classifies inclusivity work as racist so that'll probably be terrible

Everything going on with the impeachment is scary and I'm going to continue keeping my distance, lmk how I can support y'all through it

B. Em

- Leslie, is there any foreseeable future that you plan to loop in student government and IESC in the discussion? Is there a planned time to communicate to us regarding Big City?
 - Leslie - I sent an email a little bit ago that let the group on the email chain know that Big City is no longer a vendor on our campus. That is my update for y'all.
 - Cambree - It says on their profile on Campus Dish that they are closed for the semester.
 - Leslie - Yes that needs to get updated and I will ensure it gets clarified.
 - Cambree - Can you tell us if it was their decision to leave?

- Leslie - I cannot discuss further about it but I appreciate you asking.

C. Amanda

- No update

D. Hailey

- The Tribal Land Acknowledgement Bill passed in assembly & senate!
- Tomorrow is the Ethics hearing - is someone else available during that time to lead the IESC committee time?
 - Ryann - I am okay if it gets cancelled
 - Em - I can attend that committee meeting

E. Ryann

- I have been attending the Missing and Murdered Indigenous People's Conference through the Coalition and I am excited to bring to y'all what I learned after the conference is completed.
- I did not attend this week's Tribal Lands Project due to capacity and other factors.

IV. New Business

A. Distributing responsibilities

- a. Em - I am on the LESA committee which is a nicely structured committee. Most of the organization work has been done. The assistant coach for Men's basketball is the chair. It is one meeting every other week and then subcommittee meetings once a week for about 30 minutes. Amanda you said you would be a backup for that - does that still work for you?
 - i. Amanda - I can do that.
 - ii. Em - We can go to the next meeting jointly to help make it a smoother transition.
 - iii. Amanda - Yes sounds great.
