MASTER in TEACHING

program highlights

- Accelerated graduate program leading to initial Idaho Teaching Certification
- Teach elementary school or middle school grades K-8
- Hybrid online and on campus format with on-site elementary classroom field experiences

admission requirements

- Bachelor’s degree from an accredited university
- Minimum GPA of 3.00 (on a 4.00 scale)
- Official scores on approved nationally-normed assessments in math, reading and writing achievement taken within the past 10 years. For info on eligible tests, see Program Coordinator
- Transcript review with program coordinator PRIOR to admission
- Apply to the Graduate College and satisfy the program admission requirements

application deadlines

All application and admission materials are due by:

September 1

*cohorts begin in January

---

Department of Curriculum Instruction and Foundational Studies

BOISE STATE UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION
PRACTICE-BASED TEACHER EDUCATION

- University assigned liaison to support, observe, and evaluate internship and student teaching
- Apply and reflect upon best educational practices in K-8 classrooms as you learn them
- K-8 mentor teacher to work with the entire year in host elementary or K-8 school

program requirements

In addition to successfully completing program coursework, students will need to:

- Complete one elementary-approved, 20-credit endorsement
- Pass the PRAXIS #5001 multisubject test
- Pass the appropriate PRAXIS test for their endorsement
- Maintain a minimum cumulative 3.0 GPA overall
- Maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA in all education courses

authentic experience

"My student teaching experience in the program allowed me to immerse myself in the life of a teacher. I was able to build strong relationships with my students, take chances with my lessons, and learn to respond to the various needs of my students in real time. It was a truly invaluable experience."

- Katrina Johnson

"Using what I learned from the graduate program’s professors and classes, I was able to hone my prior skills and experiences into effective teaching practices."

- Adam Nunez

for more information

Dr. Julianne Wenner
Program Coordinator
juliannewenner@boisestate.edu
education.boisestate.edu/cifs