Why Canberra?

The University of Canberra offers a variety of majors (called courses) for exchange students.

On campus, social life revolves around coffee shops and food outlets, lounges and lawns, the activities of various clubs and societies, and events organized by UCU. For the athletically-inclined there's a well-equipped sports and fitness center with squash, basketball, and tennis courts. There's also a range of shops and banks conveniently located on campus.

Academics

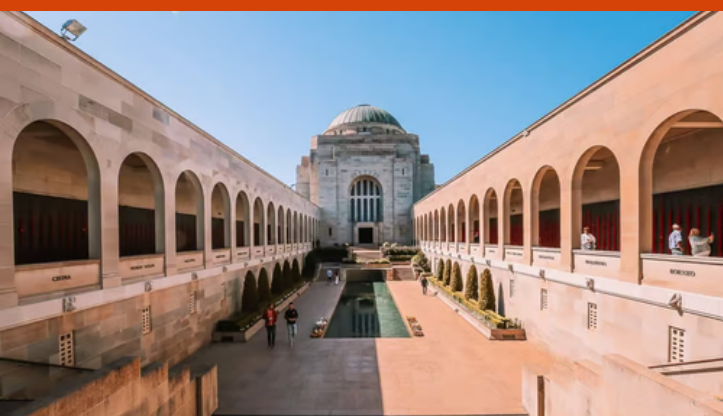

The University of Canberra is a comprehensive university with faculties of Applied Science, Arts and Design, Business and Government, Education, Health, Information Sciences and Engineering, and Law. For more information, visit here.

Australian Education

Australians declare a major in high school. Because of this, students are already focused when they arrive at the university. They do not take courses in other areas and their degrees only take three years to complete. Australian students spend less time doing daily and weekly assignments and more time doing outside readings and independent studies.
