Confident nineteenth-century Europe was destroyed on the battlefields of the Great War, 1914-1918. This course will examine how this war began, the war on all fronts, including the war in the west, Russia, the Balkans, Africa, at sea, in the air and at home, and the impact of the war on the twentieth century. War poems, writings by both men and women, and film will be used to explore these traumatic years.

Prof. Joanne Klein
Department of History
For more information email jklein@boisestate.edu