The culminating experience for History majors, this seminar offers students the opportunity to research and write about a variety of topics. We will be using the collections of the Boise State University Archives in this course, so students will gain experience working in archival settings.

Prof. Nick Miller
Department of History
For more information email
nmiller@boisestate.edu