In this graduate-level course, we will explore the variety of ways that history is and can be put to use in the public sphere, from museum exhibits and archival work to podcasts and historical research in the courtroom. Graduate students (and advanced undergraduates, with instructor permission) from all fields are welcome!

Prof. Bob Reinhardt
Department of History
For more information email bobreinhardt@boisestate.edu